Volume 37

The light from the street lamp makes a pattern on the wall
as night sets softly
amid the shedding
leaves of fall

In the early evening gloom my eyes can dimly see the pattern of my life and the puzzle that is me

From the moments of my birth to the instant of my death, there are patterns I must follow just as I must breathe
each breath

Freshman Class Ups Enrollment to 1,100

As summer unfolded into autumn, students returned to school and found their places in the student body of over eleven hundred. Fear, pride, and happiness showed on faces as students faced the challenges of a new school year. These expressions lingered in the air through the first week, but soon disappeared as the regular routine of the school year began.

During the first month students paid fees and bought books. Classes and clubs elected officers to represent them throughout the year.

To make the SCA more efficient, the constitution was amended changing the election of SCA representatives to English classes instead of by homerooms. The change was requested by the SCA and approved by the administration.

Junior Class Makes Grub Day Changes

Raising money for the Junior-Senior Prom, the Junior class held their traditional Grub Day on Homecoming. Beginning this year, awards were given to the funniest, the grubbiest, and the most original outfits. The Juniors also sold stationery to meet the extreme cost of the prom.

Homecoming week proved exciting as students showed their school spirit by participating in many different activities. Individual students helped by decorating the halls with streamers and posters, encouraging the football team on to victory. At the end of the week, the cheerleaders held an exciting pep rally complete with a pom pon routine and pie-in-the-face skit.

Queen Is Crowned as Blue Devils Win

Homecoming held a festive air as everyone awaited the exciting moment for the queen to be announced at halftime. Class princesses rode around the field in cars decorated by their individual classes. After each princess was escorted onto the field, Martha Mitchell was crowned queen and Sandra Ferris maid-of-honor. To top off the night, the Blue Devils stomped Warren County 51-8.

With a cast of over thirty members, the Drama Department presented the play "The Mouse That Roared". Preparing for months ahead, the cast spent many hours practicing for the big night. On November 19 and 20, the students expertly performed the play in the school auditorium.

Also showing its talent, the Music Department combined to present a Christmas concert. The Choral Music classes and the band together played and sang Christmas carols, old and new.

Pepergram Holds Annual Talent Show

On January 15, the Pepergram staff held their annual talent show. With Cheryl Hackley as emcee, individuals exhibited their talents by playing the piano, singing, dancing, and reading. The winners were announced at the end of the show with Lynne Goldsborough, Michael Alvey, Keith Will, and Happy Aylor winning first, second, third, and fourth, respectively.

As the weather dropped to sub-zero temperatures, many students began studying for their last exams of the year. The school board passed a proposal last fall allowing those students who have missed no more than five days in the second semester and hold at least a D average to be exempted from final exams.

TOP RIGHT: Senior Milton Grant attempts to open Kenny May's locker without knowing the combination. BOTTOM RIGHT: State champion wrestler Robert Blosser patiently awaits his match to defend his undefeated record. TOP: Autumn Owsley sings "I Don't Know How To Love Him" to win honorable mention. # Young Teams Total Only Five Victories

Consisting of only three seniors, the 1971 Varsity Baseball team could manage only four wins. Led by the hitting of centerfielder Dennis Lewis and the no-hit pitching of John Gabbert, the diamondmen pulled back-to-back upsets over Spotsylvania and Washington and Lee. With a young team, many players saw action for valuable experience next year.

Posting a 1-9 record, the JV Baseball team had one of its youngest teams in CCHS's history. First baseman Brad Rosenberger and co-captains Danny Blosser and Blakey Bates were the only starting sophomores. Coach Ernie Monaco added that the individual talent was far greater than the young club's record showed.

Cindermen Display Strength and Power

This year's track team turned out to be much stronger than expected. The team showed much power in dual meets yet misjudged the strength of other strong teams and were forced to settle for third in the district.

The main strengths came from boys like Carol Grayson and cousin Charles in the sprints teaming up with "brothers" Milton Grant and Ed Lee. Charles Hoffman did a great job in the weight class along with Roger Carpenter. Track famer David Gulas gave his usual great effort. Finally two major strengths on the team were the trophy winners, Kenny Marlor and Randy Frazier.

'Playday' Highlights Track, Tennis Teams

Highlighting the new Intramural Track team's season was the annual "playday" held at Orange County High School with Orange, Bowling Green, and Culpeper participating. The team placed in each event entered.

For the third consecutive year, the Intramural tennis program continued to promote an active interest in tennis.

Clarence Porter took over the coaching job vacated by John Averett and led the golf team to the best record in its history, 5-2.

Culpeper's home course, South Wales, yielded one defeat in four matches to Woodberry Forest.

Representing Culpeper at the Regional Tournament were John Rudy, David Small, E. J. Ouellette, and Charlie Norris, the only senior. The foursome were only able to capture third place. According to the new rules only the top two teams could go to the state tournament.

Cross Country Team Reigns First in State

In their fifth year, the Blue Devil Cross Country team compiled a 6-2 season record. Led by senior runners Randolph Frazier, John Backe, and Robert Blosser, the Harriers were responsible for bringing Culpeper High their first state title.

November 13, the State AA Meet in Williamsburg, found the Blue Devils Harriers number one in the state. With John Backe as individual leader, in sixth position, all CCHS Harriers placed in the top twenty-five positions to clinch the trophy.

Varina Trampled in Homecoming Victory

With a great display of offense and defense, the Blue Devils walked over Varina 41 to 7 in the delayed Homecoming game. David Small connected seven out of ten passes for 101 yards and the backfield gained 184 yards on the ground to move the team on to victory in front of a huge crowd of cheering fans.

Although the Devils finished the year with a 3-6-1 record, the season was not as bad as the record shows. CCHS tied Fauquier, one of the toughest teams in the state, 6-6 in a very fine game. James Monroe, the most feared team in the district, had to fight hard to come from a Culpeper lead of 6-0 to lead 12-6 at halftime.

Noted for their excellant play throughout the long season were Kenny May, who scored a total of 56 points and rushed for 607 yards, Johnny Nicholson, who scored 50 points and also rushed 607 yards, and freshman Ernest Brent, who scored 18 points.

JV Devils Complete Eventful 6-2-1 Year

Behind a tough defense and powerful offense, the JV Football team posted a 6-2-1 record, the best in eleven years.

James Monroe and Spotsylvania accounted for the two losses of the Baby Devils, 19-14 and 30-20 respectfully. In their second meeting with Spotsylvania the Devils battled to a 6-6 tie. The final game of the year proved to the fans that the Devils meant business as they trounced James Monroe 22-6.

TOP. Tony Estritrick avoids the Spotsylvania tacklers on his way for a first down. A 6-6 tie ended the home game. # Blue Devils Finish Second in District Finishing second in District competition, the Devils compiled a 9-3 Battlefield District record and an overall record of 13 wins and 4 losses.

Suffering from many slow starts, the Devils were forced to play many close scoring contests. However, the "Big Blue" broke the school record for the highest scoring game by defeating Spotsylvania 101-73. The previous record was set when Culpeper defeated Stonewall Jackson by scoring 100 points.

Culpeper was eliminated in District Tournament play by Varina, 47-42.

JV Devilettes Stress Sportsmanship, Skills

Skill, quickness, and a balanced scoring attack attributed to the Baby Devilettes scoring an average of 32 points a game while good defense and alertness held opponents to an average of 11 points a game. Combining skill, team play, sportsmanship, and the enjoyment of playing, the girls made a very successful season losing only one game. Coach Kate Carter remarked, "Good attitudes and a great deal of respect for one another made coaching them a privilege."

Underclassmen Get Numerous Honors

Coach Anne Yeatts summed up the girl's Gymnastics season; "I was very pleased with the performance of the girls during the season. Experience was not the only factor in our success since underclassmen won many honors, also. I would have to say this is the best Gymnastics team we have had since its beginning in 1967".

TOP: Going through her free exercise routine, Pemberton Lewis exhibits excellent form. # Devils Seize Runner Up Position in State

Led by co-captains Robert Edwards and Robert Blosser, the 1971-72 Varsity Wrestling team once again turned in a fine season. Under the artful instruction of Coach Shirley Gray, the Grapplers carried an 8-2-1 record in the post-season tournaments. Finishing second in the District and third in Region II, the Devils sported a strong team effort and placed second in the State of Virginia Group AA.

Coach Dennis McMullen's Junior Varsity squad put on a late season surge winning three of their last four meets. The baby Grapplers compiled a 4-5 record losing by only one point to Spotsylvania.

The background of the page features a dense pattern of fine, dark gray diagonal lines that create a sense of depth and motion. These lines are more concentrated in the lower half of the frame, forming a triangular shape that points upwards towards the top right corner. The overall effect is minimalist and modern.

ORGANIZATIONS

English Class Stoics Echo Student Ideas

Changes in representation were made as council members were chosen from English classes instead of homerooms. To lessen the large number of students, the Inter-Club Council was formed for the club presidents to coordinate their activities.

Members raise money for dues and conferences by selling cookies and t-shirts. They hosted the annual District SCA Conference in October and invited Virginia's Attorney General Andrew P. Miller as the guest speaker.

Other worthwhile projects included sponsoring the Homecoming festivities, and placing Christmas baskets in each homeroom.

Society Meets Goal To Aid Community

Better community service was the goal of the National Honor Society. The members offered their services by ushering at the Pink Ladies Follies and holding an aluminum drive for the Tuberculin Society.

Senator William Spong was the key speaker for the Society's tap-in service. With stricter requirements for membership, the Society inducted only eighteen new members into their ranks.

With the traditional candy sale, the club raised money for a scholarship which was given to an outstanding senior.

Guest speakers and lively debates highlighted club meetings, which were held during the school day. The change of meeting time stimulated better attendance and was more convenient.

Yearbooks Assumes Renovated Priorities

New ideas and concepts in yearbook production changed the basic priorities of the COLONNADE. To please the students and then the judges was the goal of the staff.

Sixteen pages of spot color plus other special effects fulfilled the promise of a more exciting publication. With four deadlines to meet, the staff worked on Saturdays and holidays besides school hours.

Student Participate In Christmas Issue

Printing ten exciting issues, the Pepergram mirrored the students ideas and action in the school environment. A special layout in the Christmas issue gave students a chance to express themselves in poetry and photography.

Facing financial problems, the staff held their third annual talent show on January 15. Talented students competed for prizes in the contest.

Club Contests Keep FFA Members Busy

Learning through competition, FFA members improved their skills by entering various contests. Among those offered included forestry judging, tractor driving, mechanics and soil testing.

To finance the two annual banquets, the organization provided its members with peanut brittle to sell. The sale began on November 15 and ran through December 17. With the proceeds of this project they were able to hold the Federation Banquet on February 23 and their Chapter Awards Banquet on April 14.

Stereo Record Sales Boost Band Treasury

Band members sold stereo recordings of the concert band during football half-times as a money-making project. They also provided a half-time show for home games and formed the now traditional CHS formation to conclude the show.

Several members represented Culpeper in Regional and Area Band, and the entire band participated in the Band Festival. Other activities of the year were the Annual Spring Concert, the Stage Band Concerts at the Elementary Schools and the Culpeper Firemen's Parade.

FBLA Holds Annual Miss CCHS Contest

Starting with the used book sale, the Future Business Leaders of America led the clubs in making money. Added to the treasury were the profits from the sales of Tom Watt, Cherrydale Candy, Miss Culpeper, and Miss CCHS contests, and school pictures.

Attendance at state and national conventions made the club members more aware of the broad spectrum of FBLA work. On the social side, the members enjoyed the annual Employer-Employee Banquet and a party honoring seniors.

Third Battle of Bands Furnishes Cash for MGA

In the fall the Hi-Y held an induction service at the Culpeper Lutheran Church, and they hosted the District Officers Workshop. The Hi-Y served its community and school by donating money to worthwhile causes. In the spring Hi-Y members attended the Model General Assembly. For the third consecutive year, the Hi-Y hosted the Battle of the Bands.

The members of the club strived to extend high standards of Christian character by attending a church of the community one Sunday a month.

Tri-Hi-Y Play Shows Importance of Xmas

Under the direction of President Martha Mitchell and Sponsor Mrs. A.C. Walker, the Culpeper chapter of the Tri-Hi-Y got off to a good start selling popcorn at all home football games. The profits from this aided in sending delegates to the annual Model General Assembly held in the spring. Other activities of the club included selling Tootsie Roll Banks, attending the different churches in the community, attending and hosting various conferences, and having the annual induction service for all new members of Tri-Hi-Y. Guest speakers added to the meetings.

Combining their resources and talents, the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y presented a Christmas program on the day before Christman break. The theme was "John 3:16", and the music included the score from "Jesus Christ Superstar."

GAA Turns to the Streets for Initiation

After all initiations had been banned from activities during the school day, the GAA held their initiation on a Saturday morning. The new members dressed in unusual clothes were led through town as part of the test.

Funds needed for scholarships were raised by the sale of toothbrushes. The annual GAA-Faculty basketball game brought money for senior gifts.

Jewelry Sale Makes FHA Treasury Glitter

Having a jewelry and cookbook sale, the Future Homemakers of America raised money for their organization's activities.

By sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins dance, members promoted additional interest in the club. Enjoying the profit made from the dance many members visited colleges on school sponsored trips.

People from various professional fields spoke at meetings giving the members ideas for the future.

Drama Club Travels To JM for Workshop

October was the month for makeup, costumes, and rehearsals. Presenting a full-length play on November 19 and 20, all members participated in some part of the play, "The Mouse That Roared."

Culpeper was host to the Battlefield District One-Act Play Festival. Members traveled to Mary Washington College to the Battlefield Workshop sponsored by James Monroe High School.

A busload of students traveled to the Virginia Museum Theatre to see "Twelfth Night," a Shakespearean comedy, on January 29. Another highlight of the year was going to see a play at Mary Washington College.

Chess Tournaments Challenge Members

Keeping their purpose — to promote good sportsmanship and develop skills in playing chess — the chess club started their second year. During their meetings chess tournaments were held within the membership. Extra tournaments with other schools were planned.

Library Club Assists Librarians in Duties

Starting the year with their annual fund raising project held November 8-15, the sale of candy and stationery proved to be a big success.

In their spare time, members worked in the library arranging books and collecting fines.

Anticipating a field trip in the spring, members looked forward to relaxing after a long year.

French Carols Ring Halls for Christmas

Bringing the spirit of a French Christmas, French Club members wandered the halls singing familiar carols of the Season in French. A bulletin board in the main hall presented a view of Christmas in France.

With the showing of films and slides on the French culture by Mrs. Irvin O. Wolf, advisor, the members achieved a greater respect for the language which they were learning.

A picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wolf in May culminated the year's activities.

Latin Club Banquet Enriches Knowledge

With a flash of white and a "Hail to thee," the Latin club opened a new and enthusiastic year with the initiation of new members. Dressed in togas, they recited conjugations of verbs and declensions of nouns in their classes.

For the first time, the Latin club engaged in chariot races as one of their projects. Other activities in which the club participated were the Latin club banquet, a March bulletin board, and the Latin tournament at U. Va.

Highlighting the monthly meetings were guest speakers Miss Laura Thornhill and Mr. Ludlow.

Peanut Race Brings To Close Initiations

Racing peanuts down the hall with their noses provided a novel initiation for new Spanish Club members. The initiation brought to a close all in-school initiations because of the excitement caused by the race.

With meetings the first Wednesday of every month during Activity Period, the club discussed the Spanish language and culture. Mr. Holland, the new advisor, brought ideas for programs. The club served refreshments to the College Orientation Program and went bowling.

DE Members Attend A District Fall Rally

Learning the responsibilities of their offices, DECA officers attended a training workshop on October 13. The district fall rally — a meeting of DECA members from seven schools — gave members a broader outlook on distributive education. Selling chocolate candy bars during the month of October helped pay for the Employer-Employee Banquet on April 26 and the expenses of the DECA State Leadership Conference.

PTA's Bulletin Board Hails New Teachers

Promoting interest in the teaching field is the goal for the Future Teachers of America. In trying to reach their goal they sponsored a trip to Mary Washington College on November 6, helped in the Special Education class, and observed "be good to a new teacher day" with a bulletin board of the new teachers.

Checking coats at home basketball games protected the property of those at the game and added significantly to the treasury of the club.

Choral Music Club Doubles Enrollment

Doubling this year in size, the choral music classes performed as two groups. Scheduled along with the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts were concerts for other schools inside and outside of the county.

The groups competed for prizes by selling candy bars and an all-purpose cleaner. Profits from these sales went toward buying robes.

Competitions Better Business Abilities

Assisting the senior chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, the Junior FBLA sold Cherrydale Candies. The sale provided the additional funds needed for club trips.

Spelling tests and other contests helped members achieve higher standards in their business education.

4-H Members Host Interesting Speakers

With an emphasis on agri-business the 4-H Club invited members from the Culpeper business community to club meetings. Among the speakers was an officer from the Department of Forestry, who spoke on the protection of woodlands from fires.

Needles, pins, and bolts of material were the main concern of the girls in the club. Mrs. Grace Brothers assisted the girls in making their clothes and choosing the proper accessories.

Drink Sales to Fans Pay Costs of Dance

Standing out in crowds were the boys wearing new Varsity Club jackets. These boys earned this recognition by participating in varsity sports with success. Through discussions and films on various athletic activities, members improved their own skills.

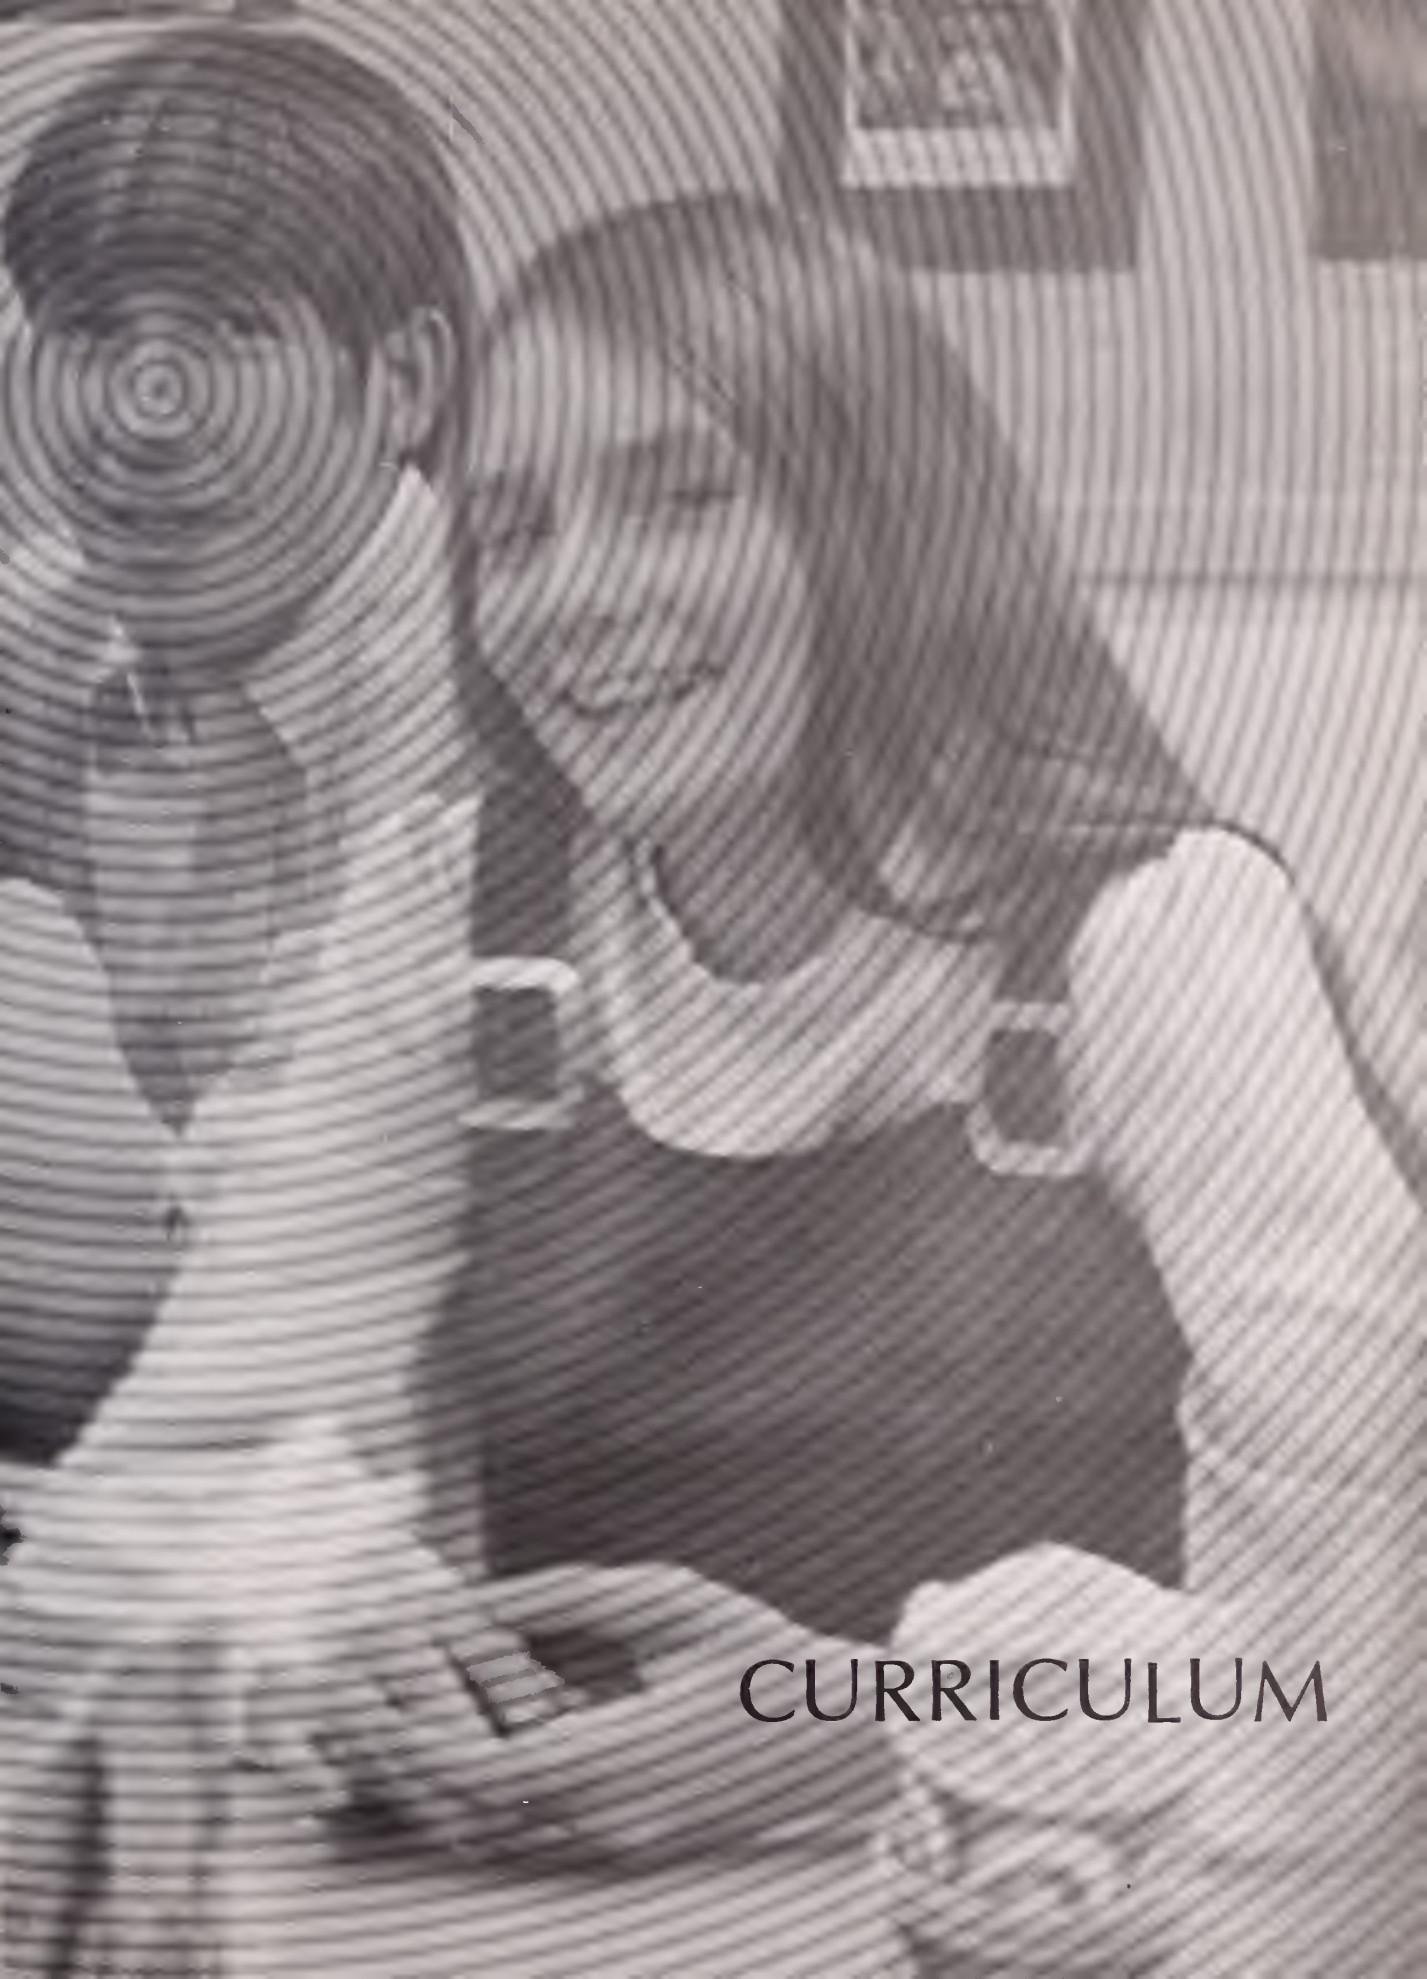

Taking time out from their usual activities, they sponsored a Sweetheart Dance in February. The sale of drinks to thirsty fans at home games brought funds for this dance.

CURRICULUM

Weekly TV Program Helps Reading Skills

English students honored a weekly television program and incorporated it into their regular class work. It was entitled "Secondary Developmental Reading." Much enthusiasm and interest prevailed with the use of this aid.

Public speaking and reading were tape recorded by those students who participated in the local forensics contest in the early spring.

Seniors studied English literature and a portion of English history. Various plays were discussed and books, which were written by twentieth century authors, were read during assigned periods of the year.

Math Students Use Electric Calculators

New electric calculators were used by the Mathematics department in solving tedious division problems and other calculations. A new calculus text was adopted this year for the advanced class of twelve students. Trigonometry — advanced algebra classes had an increased enrollment of seventy students in two classes. To enhance the student's learning experience, teachers used overhead projectors and models of geometric figures to convey math concepts.

TOP: With the use of electronic calculators, Jeff Lovett makes exact calculations. BOTTOM: Blakey Bates announces the impossibility of solving the problem, but decides to give it a try.

Earth Science Revises Old Approach

Physical Science took a new approach and changed to Earth Science. With new books and ideas, the Science Department challenged the students by introducing thought questions.

Chemistry students learned the basic characteristics and compositions of elements through class instruction and lab work.

Stressing student involvement, physics classes participated in many group discussions concerning heat, light, sound, electricity, magnetism, radiation, and atomic structure.

Government Classes Stress News Events

Students in government classes watched special weekly television programs which stressed current events. Learning through participation was another technique in teaching. This technique included a mock presidential nominating convention held in each class, as well as a mock United States Senate.

World History courses emphasized historical and geographical surveys of Europe and Asia. Discussions on various world affairs enabled the students to learn the histories of foreign countries. Through these studies students prepared for their responsibilities of citizenship.

Business Education Trains Students for Future Employment

Business education was concerned primarily with instruction of the attitudes, skills, and knowledge necessary for future employment and a business career. Divisions in this field of study included business math, business law, bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, and office training.

To become successful in business, students first learned skills to develop their abilities. Many attended school half a day and then went to their clerical jobs, thus combining learning and working skills.

Languages Acquaint Students with New Cultures and Ideas

Emphasized in the Foreign Language department was comprehension of the history culture, and literature of countries in addition to the mechanics of the language itself.

Audio-lingual approaches assumed a vital position as well as additional tapes, books, slides, and other modern equipment which aided the teachers as they stressed the spoken language. After the vocabulary and fundamentals were acquired, students increased their speaking ability by way of records and native writings.

Choral Music Adds Spirit of Christmas

Choral Music students entertained the school and the community with their annual Christmas and Spring concerts. Daily practices were held during class and were necessary for the mastering of each song.

Learning to cooperate with others, drama students discovered the importance of performing various skits during a class period. Public speaking as well as acting was a part of the dramatics program. The fall play, "The Mouse That Roared," was presented locally in the high school auditorium.

Phys. Ed. Emphasizes The Responsibilities of Sportsmanship

Physical education formed an important part of the modern program of general education. Students disclosed their highest potential in the required instructions of calisthenics and fitness tests. The program centered on organized games such as basketball, football, baseball, volleyball, and modern dance. Students learned to accept the responsibilities of sportsmanship through the experiences accompanying competitive sports.

Shop classes performed various services for the school and the community by printing activity tickets and various programs for dramatic plays and assemblies. Participation in such activities as woodworking and working with leather were a part of their general study.

Corbin, Magura Elected As Senior Leaders

Seniors elected Robert Corbin to lead them through their final year. Along with the help of his fellow officers and senior class sponsors, the senior agenda was handled smoothly.

Early in the year plans were made for the all-important class day, although with some disappointment. For the first time in the history of Culpeper High School, no class day play was held.

Cap and gown measurements were taken and orders placed early in February. Tradition again was somewhat broken, for the graduation ensembles were to be kept by each individual.

All in all the year seemed to be a good one as the Class of '72 assumed an air of authority and looked forward to graduation.

Senior class officers and sponsors get together before a senior class meeting. The officers and sponsors are: Heidi Christensen, treasurer; Susan Young, secretary; Mr. Floyd

Lynne Goldsborough Presides Over Juniors

The Class of 1973 got an early start as class officers were elected and plans for the Junior-Senior Prom were made. Stationery was sold and a "grub day" was put on the calendar to raise funds to finance the big event.

College Board Entrance Examinations were given early in December. Many juniors, thinking of the future, participated.

The exam exemption policy pleased especially the juniors because the preceding year it was a senior privilege. The policy states that anyone with a passing average and no disciplinary problems are exempt from final exams.

Junior class officers and sponsors began with a hectic year as they strove to have the most successful prom ever. The officers and sponsors are Mr. Allen Martin, sponsor; Danny Blosser, treasurer; Julie Davis, vice-president; Carrolet Taylor, secretary; Lynne Goldsborough, president; and Mrs. Rebecca Mills, sponsor.

Two enlightened gymnastic students exhibit the techniques of the "horse". Gymnastic students learned the techniques very quickly and were soon competing with other schools for state titles.

Ann Baker Voted in as Soph Class President

Sophomores experienced a new and most unique year filled with anticipation, the joy of seeing their classmates again, and indecision. The time had come to decide which course in life they would follow and the question of college was confronted with mixed feelings of confusion, frustration, and enthusiasm.

Determination was another characteristic very evident in the faces of the sophomores. Their prankish freshman feelings were gone as they became immersed in a year of discovery, study, and accomplishment. The responsibilities of becoming leaders began to grow in great dimension as they began to realize that the amount of knowledge they would compile will help them make it.

Ten sophomores were inducted into the National Honor Society adding that extra confidence needed to become a proud and distinguished part of the high school.

Hackley Leads Class Through First Year

Guided by Leroy Hackley, the freshman class anxiously began its high school career. The first few weeks of school were very hectic for the youngest class, especially as they adjusted to new school rules and joined various clubs and activities. It was like throwing out the old and bringing in the new.

As the year progressed further, the freshman class helped create the friendly atmosphere surrounding the students and teachers. The major event taking place for them was decorating the car for the freshman homecoming princess.

Despite small obstacles and being caught in awkward situations, this year proved an interesting and very memorable year for the Class of 1975. For years to come they will remember the joys of being a freshman.

Freshman class officers and sponsors, Mr. Donald Baldwin, sponsor; Leroy Hackley, president; Terry Owsley, treasurer; Beverly Carder, secretary; Richard Hunter, vice-president;

In the olden days

Wearing a ring on the forefinger signified a haughty spirit;
On the middle finger, prudence and dignity;
On the "ring" finger, love;
On the little finger, a masterful spirit.
Today, on any finger, your Balfour class ring symbolizes moments and memories shared with your classmates.
Treasure them always.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders find the floor the most comfortable place to discuss ideas for a new cheer. The cheerleaders came up with some unusual and enthusiastic cheers.

Enthusiasm is the main drive which keeps the Junior Athletic Club active.
